

Final Deadline' On Hospital Plans Now Is Jan. 29

Jan. 29 "ultimate deadline" for submission of final plans for the proposed new Hancock County Hospital has been set by the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care.

29 Civic Groups To Help Plan Development

Public spirited citizens will be asked soon to meet with the members of Commerce to begin planning of the 1959 Hancock County Development Program, Henry Osolnach, Chairman of Commerce, said today. Mr. Osolnach said each organization in the community would be asked to send two representatives to the planning meeting, for which a date has not been set. A community may choose as many as five projects within the program, Mr. Osolnach said, and two of them must be beautification and youth activities or range city or county planning. Other possible projects include agriculture, business activities, county government, education, family living, health and sanitation, industry, municipal government, population and manpower, recreation and culture, spiritual life, tourists and transportation and communication. Since communities making outstanding progress receive statewide recognition, the program serves to stimulate greater interest and activity in local self-improvement projects. Prizes in the population class of 2,501 to 10,000 will be given to five communities. Money awards will be for $600, $500, $400, $300, and $200. Mr. Osolnach said he hoped participation and leadership for the program could be found in other organizations.

Gymnasium Being Readied for Annual Carnival Ball

One Killed In Collision On US-90

A New Orleans Negro was killed Saturday afternoon when the car in which he was riding collided with a 11/2-ton Chevrolet Electric Delivery System truck, overturning the truck and demolishing the car on US-90 about eight miles west of Bay St. Louis.

Killed was Willie Dempsey, about 39, of 1406 S. Rampart St., New Orleans. Injured and taken to Gulfport Memorial Hospital for treatment were: Eugene Hammond, 33, 319 Tontit St., New Orleans, driver of the 1951 Dodge in which Dempsey was a passenger, listed as in critical condition and treated for a brain concussion, internal injuries and shock. His condition was listed as good today.

James Benard, Erato St., New Orleans, treated for abrasions, lacerations and a fractured right hand and released Sunday.

Clarence R. Dennis, 42, white, of 2434 Cleveland Ave., New Orleans, driver of the truck, was treated in Hancock County Hospital for an injured knee and released.

State Patrolman H. L. Miller said the accident occurred when Hammond pulled out of the traffic lane and attempted to pass car and trailer driven by the Rev. William F. Griffin of Sumter, S. C. Hammond evidently saw the truck approaching and pulled back into the right hand lane sharply, causing the death car to strike the trailer and veer back into the left-hand lane where it was struck on the right side of the car by Dennis' truck.

Other investigating officers included Patrolman Fred Melling, Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, and Chief Sheriff's Deputy Carl Garcia.

Dempsey's body was taken from Fahey-Whitfield funeral home to Geddes-Richard funeral home at New Orleans. Services were at noon Wednesday in the funeral home, with religious services in Progress Baptist Church at Gonzales, La. Burial was in Mt. Progress Baptist Cemetery.

Survivors include his mother and two sisters.

Pay Taxes Now, Sheriff Advises

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner reminded taxpayers that taxes are due and being collected in his office. Deadline for payment of poll tax ordinarily is Feb. 1. However, this year, the sheriff said, poll taxes must be paid on or before Jan. 31 as Feb. 1 falls on Sunday.

He advised taxpayers to avoid crowds and delays by paying now.

Train Service Vital, Commuters Testify

HYMAN BLOND, ICC EXAMINER, HEARS TESTIMONY

LAWRENCE A. SAUER, COMMUTER, TESTIFIES

Would Move If Runs Stop, Witness Says

A local man testified Wednesday that discontinuance of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad commuter trains No. 9 and 12 would force him to sell his home and move to another location.

His testimony came during the second day of a hearing at New Orleans before Hyman J. Blond, examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, on protests against proposed discontinuance of the trains. The railroad alleges a $72,000 loss in 1958 from operation of the trains.

Commuter Lawrence A. Sauer Jr., Rt. 2, Box 401, on the outskirts of Bay St. Louis near Waveland, was permitted to testify out of turn because of obligations which would keep him from attending later sessions of the hearing in the Jung Hotel.

He was presented as a witness by Rudolph Vorbusch, president of Gulf Coast Association and general counsel for the commuters and railroad workers protesting the discontinuance.

Commenting on bus service to New Orleans, Mr. Sauer said he had been a passenger involved in four bus accidents during 1955 and 1956. He added that police blockades had delayed traffic on US-90 when the road became impassable because of fog or freezing conditions.

The witness, who said he still rode train No. 12 from New Orleans to Waveland at night, spoke also of the uprooting effect of moving his family to another location. Mr. Blond noted that mention of the disruptive effect of having to move because of the discontinuance should be included in the record of the hearing.

The examiner sustained the objection of counsel for the L and N to comparison of bus and railroad commuter and regular rates between Ocean Springs and New Orleans but did agree to have the ICC catalog numbers of the tariffs read into the record in order that the rates could be compared later during ICC review of the testimony. Mr. Blond said review and comparison of various rates was not necessary during the hearing.

Ticket agent at Bay St. Louis Greyhound bus station quoted prices for a 10-round trip commuter ticket between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans and a single roundtrip ticket as $13.90 and $3.69, respectively.

Charges at the Bay St. Louis L and N station for the same type of train tickets are $9.96 and $3.52, respectively.

Mr. Vorbusch attempted repeatedly to have rates or comparisons voiced during cross examination of L and N witness Paul Hennessy, district sales consultant for Southeast Greyhound Lines.

Strong protest was raised by Mr. Vorbusch over introduction of Mr. Hennessy as a witness on grounds that testimony as bus travel did not pertain to the case.

"If you have any idea that the ICC will allow discontinuance of trains without hearing about other transportation, you and I have a different idea about what the ICC does," was the examiner's reply.

Mr. Hennessy claimed that the bus line would provide as much service as was needed to fill passenger needs, no matter what the increase in such needs might be. He said several unused buses

Firm Policy On Bills Set By Hospital

"We have been forced by an accumulation of $4,600 worth of uncollectable accounts to adopt a firmer policy regarding the manner in which patients in the hospital pay their bills," Administrator Edgar Little said this week.

"Hereafter, elective or non-emergency patients will be required either to place the $50 deposit before admission, furnish us with proof of a hospitalization policy, or furnish us with certified state aid papers before the patient is admitted," he explained.

Mr. Little said it would be necessary to be rigid about the policy since the accumulation of the bad accounts. He said that any account not paid in 60 days would be turned over to a collection agency.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Bourgeois

Mrs. Theresa Carco Bourgeois, 78, died at 5 Tuesday afternoon in Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Services were at 2:45 this afternoon in Fahey-Whitfield funeral home, with religious services in St. Clare Catholic Church at Waveland. Burial was in Waveland Cemetery.

The widow of Albert Francis Bourgeois of Waveland, she is survived by two sons, Charlie E. Bourgeois of New Orleans and Benedict Bourgeois of Waveland; a daughter, Mrs. Ray Page of Waveland; three brothers, Ernest Carco of Lakeshore and Robert and Joseph Carco of Pass Christian; 13 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

WEARING AUDIENCE—Here is a portion of the gathering of commuters, coastal businessmen and governing officials who attended Wednesday's hearing in the Jung Hotel at New Orleans in protest against discontinuance of L and N trains Nos. 9 and 12. Rudolph Vorbusch, president of the Gulf Coast Association and general counsel for the commuters protesting the discontinuance, said testimony from commuters and local citizens probably would not be sought until Friday.

LOCAL CITIZENS—Four local men (left to right) John McDonald, City Commissioner J. Cyril Glover, Bear's Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. and Gulf Coast Association Vice President Lt. Col. Clarence E. Becker are shown during a recess of Wednesday's hearing in protest against discontinuance of two Louisville and Nashville commuter trains, discontinuing the impact the proposed move would have upon coastal communities.

When Wages Outrun Productivity

Postmaster General Summerfield asks: "What is to be done about wage increases that outrun productivity gains?" He then says: "To prevent the extension of these inflationary wage increases, we need legislation to restore democracy and responsibility in our labor unions, to curb the present powers of the union dictators, and no less necessary in the public interest to redress the balance of power as between unions and management. The principle of antitrust should be applied to this labor boss monopoly."

It is hard to see how any reasonable man, looking at the public interest as against special interest, can logically oppose that program. But there is still more to the critical wage-productivity problem.

For example, a publication of a major union of workers in retail and wholesale business says labor will drive to bring about improvements in the federal wage-hour law during the current session of Congress. It goes on: "The most important of these improvements . . . is extension of coverage . . . to provide wage-hour protection for at least some of the 20 million workers not now covered. Of these the largest single group, some 7 million, are in retail trade. Another important objective being sought by labor is to increase the minimum wage from its present $1-an-hour level to at least $1.25."

There are a number of reasons why retailing has been exempted from the wage-hour law ever since its beginning back in depression days - one of the most important being that all retailing is a purely local business, and an outlet of the biggest chain must still compete on the local level. Beyond that, retailing offers opportunity for work and training to unskilled, inexperienced persons whose productivity is very small. To bring these persons within the scope of an inflexible national law would be a destructive further example of "wage increases" that outrun productivity gains.

The result would be more inflation and reduced opportunity for the unskilled.

Freedom First

"I love America, and I don't want to live anywhere else. . . I feel so many Americans don't appreciate it. . ."

These words were not from the lips of a person wanting to make over everybody and everything; they were spoken by a beautiful refugee Romanian girl. Her childhood record included starvation, floggings, three gun wounds while being used for target practice in prison camps including Dachau.

This girl and her family, including a brother in the Air Force, are not finding it easy to make a living in this country, but they put the right to be free ahead of everything else.

We should never forget or belittle the right every American has to be free. This freedom should not be forgotten when pressure groups, in or out of government, seek to submerge the individual under mass regimentation, infringements on individual opportunity can destroy the America the Romanian girl loves. The right to work, the right to vote, the right to worship, the right to speak, are not just trick slogans - they mean liberty.

the American Way

By M. V. EGGLESTON

GRASS ROOTS TO RESOLVE
The January, 1959, issue of Nation's Business, official organ of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, states that the problem of government competition with private enterprise "will crop up on a broad legislative front" in the 86th session of Congress.

There will be pressure for more federal subsidies housing, for bigger military airline competition with investor-owned airlines, for bigger spending for natural resources, river development, public power, and self-financing for TVA, Nation's Business warns.

But the U. S. Chamber magazine holds forth a ray of hope. "Free enterprise forces," it says, "will work to block these actions, and the already smoldering budget. The job won't be easy, but it will require grass roots support, and energetic effort by business spokesmen in Washington."

Your "Viewers of the American Way," repeatedly has stated in this column that American citizens living in the smaller communities and in the unincorporated areas of the nation can control what transpires at Washington, The U. S. Chamber of Commerce states that to rout the put-the-government-in-business forces will require "grass roots support" as well as that of business spokesmen. If there is a challenge to us grass rooters to help block the drive to socialize further our already over-socialized economy, let's contact our Congressman and two U. S. Senators immediately - let them know that we of the grass roots are opposed to any further invasion of our free enterprise system by the federal government.

Colmer Files Bills To Curb Highest Court

Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss.) of the Sixth District introduced two bills the first day of the new Congress to curb the Supreme Court.

"Not only is the South upset over the school decision," the dean of the Mississippi delegation said, "but all other sections of the country are disturbed over the repeated usurpations by the Supreme Court of the authority granted by the Constitution to the executive and legislative branches of the government and to the several sovereign states. The most recent indication of this was the action of the justices of the state supreme courts in their convention last fall in calling upon the U. S. Supreme Court to use 'judicial restraint' in refraining from trespassing upon the powers granted to others."

"I have, therefore, again introduced legislation to curb this runaway court."

The first bill introduced by Rep. Colmer was a new version of the so-called "States Rights Bill," which passed the House in the 85th Congress by a vote of 250 to 147 but was recommitted by the Senate in the dying days of the last session by a vote of 41 to 40. Rep. Colmer joined Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) and others in sponsoring the legislation both in the 85th and in this Congress.

The second Colmer bill was an omnibus measure incorporating the general provisions of the "States Rights Bill," reaffirming the basic constitutional doctrine of separation of powers among the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government, and limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

"The Court is running wild," the senior Southern Democrat said. "It must be curbed. But we must be realistic. I have, therefore, limited the scope of my bills to provisions that I believe can be gotten through Congress."

Inquiries Invited On Social Security Before Retirement

Most business organizations have at least one slogan, but the Social Security office has several. The favorite seems to be, "Inquire Before You Retire."

By that, the agency means citizens have a cordial invitation to visit their offices or see their representative who visits Bay St. Louis the first and third Tuesday each month to discuss individual cases.

Eligible persons now may file as much as three months in advance of reaching retirement age.

My Favorite Prayer

BY SEN. JACOB K. JAVITS (R-NY)

May the time not be distant, O God, when Thy name shall be worshipped in all the earth, when unbelief shall disappear and error be no more. We fervently pray that the day may come when all men shall invoke Thy name, when corruption and evil shall give way to purity and goodness, when superstition shall no longer enslave the mind, nor idolatry blind the eye, when all inhabitants of the earth shall know that to Thee alone every knee must bend and every tongue give homage. O may all, created in Thine image, recognize that they are brethren, so that, one in spirit and one in fellowship, they may be for ever united before Thee. Then shall Thy kingdom be established on earth and the word of Thine ancient seer be fulfilled: The Lord will reign for ever and ever. (Union Prayer Book For Jewish Worship)

1959 Issue Of Almanac Is Offered

Inventions that have grown out of extensive telephone research are highlighted in the 1959 edition of the Telephone Almanac which is now available to Southern Bell customers in Bay St. Louis.

J. C. Dabney, local Southern Bell manager, said that the attractive 24-page booklet may be obtained upon request at the company's business office.

The Bell Laboratories at Murray Hill, N. J., is featured on the Almanac cover and the 12 calendar pages outline significant scientific contributions by the Bell System.

Among these are the development of the solar battery - the ingenious device that converts the sun's energy into electricity - the transatlantic cable, and construction of the Arctic defense system (DEW Line).

Another is the science of radio astronomy, discovered in the early 1930s by Karl G. Jansky, a physicist at Bell Laboratories. Jansky ultimately discovered radio waves from the Milky Way as a result of the experiment.

Also featured in the Almanac are sun and moon tables, a complete 1959 calendar, and historical events for each day of the year.

County Agent Notes . . . .

Poultry Diseases

When your poultry gets sick and birds start dying, don't risk amateur diagnosis. Find out definitely what the trouble is.

Here is how:

- 1 - Send sick birds to the Livestock Sanitary Board Diagnostic Laboratory at Jackson, Miss.; Attention: Dr. J. W. Branson.
- 2 - Send birds that are strong enough to arrive at Jackson alive. Don't send dead birds.
- 3 - Send them by express; or best of all, take them yourself.

Lamb Management

Internal parasites have not been so much of a problem this year in lambs in the county as they were last year.

But keep a close watch on carry-over lambs. If they are on good grazing and are not doing well, drench them with a full dose of a recommended brand of phenothiazine.

Also, feed phenothiazine and salt free choice to the lambs.

Make Dairying Pay

Remember, when you feed high cost feeds to low producing cows you are not making money.

Two cows that produce 7,500 pounds of milk a year each will bring the same profit as eight cows producing only 4,000 pounds of milk a year each.

But to know which cow is producing, you must keep records. The weigh-a-day-month records will help in this.

Here are some more tips toward more money from dairy cows:

- 1 - Keep replacements only from the top cows in the herd.
- 2 - Breed to the best bulls obtainable. Feed adequate roughage at all times -- you pay for it whether you feed it or not.
- 3 - Feed grain according to individual cow production.
- 4 - Keep a record of breeding dates as a guide to when to turn cows dry.

Three Men Post Bonds After Raids

Two Hancock County men are among three who are free under $750 bonds after a hearing Monday before U. S. Commissioner Irene Herbert at Biloxi on charges of possession and operation of an illicit distillery.

Group supervisor Fred Shanks of the Alcohol Tax Unit at Gulfport identified the three men as William Burnett, 34, Rt. 1, Bay St. Louis; Moses Hill, 32, Kila, and J. P. Peterson, 36, Rt. 1, Pass Christian.

Burnett and Hill were arrested in a raid late Sunday night two miles southwest of Kila. Agents confiscated two 12-gallon capacity distilleries, 32 60-gallon capacity fermenters, 1,664 gallons of mash, 103 gallons of non-tax paid whisky and a 1948 Ford pickup truck.

Home Gardens

Lots of vegetables need planting this month if you are to have a full fall garden. A fall and winter garden does well in Hancock County.

Some of these are turnips, lettuce, mustard, onions, collards, radish, spinach, tender greens, beets, chard, parsley, Chinese cabbage, rape, kale, carrots and rutabagas.

Soil Testing

For crops to be planted after Oct. 1, this is the time to send soil samples to the State Soils Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University.

A soils test will provide information that will help you in applying just the right amount of fertilizer. Farmers who do not fertilize according to a soils test may guess too high or too low. Either way this farmer loses money.

For soils cartons and information on how to take a good soils sample, see the county agent.

Safety

Exhaust fumes can kill you. These fumes sometimes are tasteless, odorless and colorless and give no warning. Never run your car, truck or tractor engine in a closed building. When starting your motor in a garage or shed, make sure the doors are open.

Pilot Forests Set

Eight areas in Mississippi have been selected for pilot forests in connection with one of the most intensive forest development programs ever undertaken for small woodlands, which is being sponsored throughout the South by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

The pilot forests will be in Tishomingo, George, Lawrence, Madison, Lincoln, Clarke, Jackson and Jefferson Counties.

Two Escapers To Face Trial Here in March

Two prisoners who escaped
Oct. 24 from Hancock County Jail and were captured by the FBI at Oklahoma City, Okla., will be returned in time for the March term of court here to be tried on counts of assault and battery with intent to kill, jailbreak, and robbery in two instances, Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. said.

The two, Robert Heath and Jerry Richter, fled the jail after brutally beating night jailer Tony Bourgeois, who was for weeks afterward in serious condition in Hotel Dieu, New Orleans. They left in Mr. Bourgeois' car, also taking his revolver, the jail keys, a wallet containing about $40 and a billy club. They had been jailed here Oct. 3 on a charge of breaking and entering the Dairy Dream ice cream stand on US-90, near the Bay St. Louis toll bridge.

Both youths were AWOL from
Ft. Carson, Colo.

Trail for violation of the Dyer Act, in transporting a stolen car as far as Bay St. Louis, was held for the two Nov. 14 in U. S. District Court at Oklahoma City. Heath was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and sent Nov. 25 to the Federal Reformatory at El Reno, Okla.

Richter was sentenced and delivered Nov. 24 to the Federal Vocational School at Englewood, Calif. District Attorney Boyce
Hollenman has been informed, Sheriff Ladner said, that the youths will be returned in time for court in March.

Chief Sheriff's deputy Carl Garcia Jan. 14 investigated the report of the theft of an undetermined amount of sheet metal from the construction site of the new Gulf Chevrolet building on US-90. Officials of the Gulfport firm, Ross Construction Co., who are erecting the building, said the exact amount of metal stolen could not be determined until the construction job was finished.

Alien Registration Boosts Requests For Naturalization

C. W. Johnson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at New Orleans, says the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their address each January. Throughout the United States, almost thirty per cent more applications for naturalization are received during January, February and March than are received during other months. Mr. Johnson attributes this rise to the alien address report program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Band Clinic Is Set For High Schools

POPLARVILLE - Pearl River Junior College will be host for the annual high school band clinic
Jan. 30 and 31.

Students will attend from Pop-larville, Picayune, Columbia, Prentiss, Sunrall, Lumberton, Bay High, St. Stanislaus, Hattiesburg, Oak Grove and Petal.

Visiting directors of music will include Brother Romuald of St. Stanislaus and Marcel La Nasa of Bay High School.

Schools Are Slated In Fire Prevention

The State Forestry Commission has planned a series of countywide forest fire prevention schools. Purpose of the schools is to promote a more effective fire prevention and control program. This is especially important at this period in the year when woodlands are in greatest danger of burnings. Latest techniques in fire prevention and control are given.

Home Agent Notes . . .

Chickens Inspected

Next time you buy a chicken, look at the wrapping or some- where on the package to see if it bears the small round "U. S. Inspector" label. You prob- ably will find it, for since the first of the year all chickens going into interstate commerce must have U. S. Department of Agriculture official inspection. This inspection is required by the "Poultry" Products Inspection Act passed by Con- gress last year. It went into effect Jan. 1.

It requires inspection by the USDA of all poultry and poul- try products that move in in- terstate or foreign commerce and in certain areas of the United States.

Many of the tender young broilers and fryers you've bought in the past have been inspected through arrangements by the pro- cessors. Under this new program, trained government inspectors check on the sanitation of the processing plants and examine every bird to be shipped across state lines.

You may find the U. S. De- partment of Agriculture inspec- tion stamp on wing tags, outer wrappers or boxes or on giblet wrappers.

"Check with your grocer to see if the chickens you buy from him are inspected."

Don't confuse this inspection with grading. If the poultry meat has passed inspection, you know it is wholesome food. Grading comes after inspection. Poultry grades are Grade A, Grade B and Grade C. The grade shows the tenderness and eating quality of the poultry. Look for the "shield" grade mark for this.

Clean Hair a 'Must'

Yes, clean hair is a "must" for skin beauty.

A smooth complexion depends as much on having a clean, healthy scalp as it does on washing your face properly. Shampoo your hair regularly, as often as needed.

This is usually once a week for normal hair, every four days for oily hair and every 10 days for dry hair.

A Good Pot of Greens

That's what a lot of folks want in winter. And green, leafy vegetables are important in meals, especially in winter, be- cause of their vitamins. They're a good source of both vitamin A and vitamin C.

In figuring how much greens you need for your family, plan on four or five servings from a pound of mustard or turnip greens, cabbage or collards. This allows for waste and shrinkage caused by cooking.

Cook the greens with little more water than stays on the leaves after washing. Long cook- ing will make them limp and change the color and flavor.

Gulfport Sets Camellia Show

The sixth Annual Camellia show of the Gulfport Men's Camellia Society will be held Saturday and Sunday at the West Side Community House on W. Beach Boulevard, Gulfport.

This year's show will be featured by 17 silver trophies, given as awards in the various divisions.

Staged in cooperation with the American Camellia Society, the competition in both the horticultural and arrangement divisions is open to all amateur gardeners whether or not they are members of a garden club. The theme of the arrangement division is "The Romance of Camellias in the American Home."

While competition is restricted to amateurs, professionals are encouraged to enter samples of their works, plants or blooms for exhibition. Professionals will be allowed to enter blooms in seedling class in open competition for awards.

Entries will be accepted for classification, placement and judging from 7 a.m. until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Show hours are from 3 to 9 p.m. Saturday and to 6 p.m. Sunday. There is no charge for admission.

Judges in the arrangement division include Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab of Bay St. Louis.

Pension Recipients Must List Income

Approximately 14,000 disabled veterans and widows of veterans in Mississippi who receive monthly pension payments are being reminded by the Veterans Administration to report their annual income promptly.

VA is now mailing to all pension recipients a tabulating card upon which the income report may be made. Pensions cease if the income of a single individual exceeds $1,400, or $2,700 if the recipient has dependents. Regulations require payment to be stopped if the income report is not received within 30 days.

VA warned that the tabulating card will be processed mechanically when it is returned and that cutting, folding or otherwise mutilating it will delay the recording of the information and risk a cut-off in payments.

No income questionnaire is sent to veterans or dependents receiving service-connected compensation.

Children Get Roles in Play

Skilled actors and actresses frequently are the children and grandchildren of skilled performers before them.

This interesting tendency to carry on dramatic activity can be found in the families of two of the performers in the Little Theatre production of "Speaking of Murder," a mystery melodrama which will be presented early in March under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Samuel.

Dean Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor, has seen his parents in many past Little Theatre productions. He will play the part of Ricky in the latest play.

Paul White, father of Piji White who plays Janie in the play, had roles in his last two productions on the Boardman Ave. stage.

The two youngsters will portray the children of Charles Ashton, who has not definitely been cast, Mrs. Samuel said. Ashton's wife, a lovely movie star, will be played by Mrs. David L. Poindexter. Others cast so far include Mrs. Ezelda Ling and Robin Gross.

The play was first produced at the Royale Theatre, New York, in 1956.

Train Service Is Vital, Commuters Testify

could be called upon to fill an increased need.

Mr. Vorbusch noted that buses could not serve water-bound areas such as Rigolets and Lake Catherine and that only flagstop service existed at many other points where railroad station shelter now existed.

Asked if bus service on US-90 would be continued in the event of possible building of another highway to by-pass Bay St. Louis, Mr. Hennessy said he could not answer before completion of the road.

Mr. Hennessy's testimony and exhibits offered by the counsel for the L and N showed that when buses had been overloaded in the past, extra buses had been put on the road to carry the overload.

An earlier witness Wednesday, Richard A. Stanley, New Orleans traffic manager for the railroad, said US-90 serves all stations along the railroad route except Anslay and Clermont Harbor, which he said are accessible to the highway by other roads. Stations at Baldwin Lodge, Knight, Lockport, Rigolets and Lake Catherine are accessible only by water, he said, although an express of only six passengers a day board the train at those points.

A later commuters witness, Fred Vanzough, a Lake Catherine fisherman, said his only access to the highway was by means of a boat small enough to travel under a three-foot-high trestle. Navigation of such a boat across the lake was impossible on a rough day, even such as Wednesday, he said.

Paul C. Weathers Rites Are In Mobile

Paul Charles Weathers, father of John Weathers, died Jan. 17 at Mobile. He was a native of New Orleans but had lived at Mobile in 1945.

Dennis said his wife, who is survived by three children and seven grandchildren, was in the city when she learned of her husband's death. She is now in Mobile.

Mrs. Phillip W. Elstrott of Lake Catherine said Tuesday that four children attending school at New Orleans would be left without transportation if the discontinuance was approved.

Final witness Wednesday was Fred Whittemore, L and N assistant vice president. Evidence prepared at his direction showed the decrease in per capita occupation of motor vehicles since 1900 to the point where an average of 2.7 persons occupied each vehicle in Mississippi during 1958 and 3.4 in Louisiana.

Mr. Whittemore said that re-employment of younger crew members involved in operation of trains Nos. 9 and 12 would depend upon business conditions at the time of the discontinuance.

A very fair record in regard to arriving on time was claimed by Mr. Whittemore for both trains. During August and September, he said, No. 9 was on time 100 per cent of the time. No. 12 was on time all but five days during August and 77 per cent of the time during September, he added.

Railroad objection to consideration of the record of the consolidated through trains was sustained on the grounds that they were not involved in the testimony.

The railroad official said he did not know why trains Nos. 9 and 12 had not been included in a recent newspaper advertisement of L and N schedules.

Mr. Vorbusch charged during Tuesday's portion of the heated hearing that two top officials of the railroad purposely had not attended the hearing.

Expected to appear Tuesday were John E. Tilford, president, and his public relations assistant, W. G. Whitsett. Clifford T. Coomes, Louisville, commerce attorney for the railroad, denied that the absent officials had contrived business elsewhere to avoid the hearings and said dedication of new yards near Birmingham required their presence there.

The head commuters counsel said he had not served subpoenas on the railroad since he had not received them yet.

In another charge, Mr. Vorbusch said that last year a consolidation of four passenger trains "on a given afternoon," without advance notice, was part of a "well conceived plan" to discontinue all passenger train service into New Orleans.

"I am told from the top officials that they were selling tickets one evening at the Union Passenger Terminal at 6:30 p.m. and when the sale was abruptly discontinued passengers had to go to Mobile to catch an 11 p.m. train," he said.

The examiner sustained Mr. Coomes' objection that the charge had nothing to do with the request to discontinue trains Nos. 9 and 12. "I'm not going to investigate that plan, if there is such a plan," Mr. Blond said.

During cross examination of J. W. Moore, railroad general passenger agent, questions by Mr. Vorbusch frequently were objected to by L and N counsel on the grounds that they would be answered in later testimony.

Mr. Blond generally ruled that questions could be asked if the witness felt qualified to answer them on a broad basis.

Interveners appearing with Mr. Vorbusch included Nat. B. Knight Jr., chairman, Louisiana Public Service commission; Wade H. Creekmore, assistant attorney general, state of Mississippi; James H. Harndon, assistant city attorney, New Orleans; E. B. McKinnis, assistant manager, New Orleans traffic and Transportation Bureau; Clarence E. Becker, vice president of the Gulf Coast Agass; Lawrence Daspit and Cecil Roberts.

Rail workers representatives were present in behalf of telegraphers, trainmen, conductors and brakemen; clerks at Union Terminal; yardmasters, locomotive engineers, firemen and engineers, maintenance of waymen and railway clerks.

Counsel for the defense included, besides Mr. Coomes, Charles E. Arendall of the district office at Mobile and Harry T. McCall Jr., New Orleans.

Continuation of the hearing may next week will depend upon whether enough testimony remains to be heard Friday night to justify calling a Saturday and Sunday recess, Mr. Blond indicated.
